

Anthology Release Form

The purpose of this document is to create a Mutual Understanding and Agreement between Matrika Press (Publisher)

and contributing writers and artists (Contributor) whose work will be published in an anthology collection themed: _____.

Authorization and Copyrights to Individual

Publisher is authorized by the undersigned Contributor to publish her submitted materials as part of this anthology, and in any subsequent reprinting of the exact same collection. This includes written work, art, photos and biographical materials submitted. All ownership and copyrights to individual materials shall remain the property of the Contributor.

Copyrights to the Collection

Publisher will register a copyright of the anthology collection with clear indication to the U.S. Copyright Office that the collection contains work owned by other parties. Individual Contributors may not create their own publication versions of the collected anthology. Such action would infringe on the rights of both the Publisher, as owner of the anthology, and the other Contributors, as owners of their individual works.

Representations and Indemnities

The undersigned Contributor represents to Publisher that she/he is the owner of materials submitted for inclusion in this anthology collection and thereby holds the appropriate authority to grant Publisher the right to publish said materials in the anthology. She further attests that the work submitted does not infringe on any copyright, trade mark, or any other intellectual property or proprietary right, and that the contributor will indemnify and hold harmless Publisher and its partners, officers and directors, as well as the anthology editors in the event there is a breach of the representation of ownership described above.
